

JEREMY DENTON

Director, Programs and Member Services
Automotive Aftermarket Suppliers Association (AASA)
Executive Director
AASA Overseas Automotive Council

Jeremy Denton is director, programs and member services, of the Automotive Aftermarket Suppliers Association (AASA), and executive director of the AASA Overseas Automotive Council.

His responsibilities include directing the international activities of AASA, including its China Aftermarket Forum (CAF) and its Overseas Automotive Council (OAC). As the AASA OAC executive director, Denton's duties include membership recruitment and development of programs and services for the AASA OAC. He is also the executive director of the Filter Manufacturers Council (FMC).

Before joining MEMA in 2005, Denton worked for PCIA as the director of industry affairs. He holds a masters degree in public policy from The George Washington University and a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Arkansas. He currently resides in Holly Springs, N.C.