

MICHAEL S. HANLEY

Partner
Global Automotive Industry Leader
Ernst & Young

Mike Hanley is the Global Automotive Leader for Ernst & Young. Based in Detroit, Hanley is responsible for managing the firm's Global Automotive Center and for developing the firm's automotive industry strategy and initiatives worldwide. The Global Automotive Center delivers industry knowledge to automotive account teams through the sharing of best practices, tailoring of business solutions, and creation of relevant automotive thought leadership.

Hanley holds a B.S. from the University of Toledo and has completed Ernst & Young's Executive Program at The Kellogg School of Northwestern University. He is a certified public accountant in Ohio and Michigan and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.