

JEFFREY M. HENNING

Partner, Ernst and Young LLP Advisory Services and Global Automotive Markets Leader

As global markets leader for Ernst and Young, Jeffrey Henning's primary responsibilities include the development and monitoring of the firm's automotive sector strategy, which includes oversight of the production of industry-relevant thought leadership and research, maintaining regular contact with global industry leaders to stay current on the evolving business issues within the industry, and supporting the company's automotive professionals deliver high quality assurance, tax, transaction and advisory services aligned to the evolving needs of the industry. Henning is involved in market strategy execution by Ernst and Young's Global Automotive Center teams located in Detroit, Stuttgart, Shanghai and Tokyo and by the company's automotive leaders in other major automotive markets around the world.

In addition to Henning's global markets leader role with the Global Automotive Center, he is a partner in the company's advisory services practice where he provides risk advisory services in the automotive industry. Presently Henning is a coordinating partner on one of the U.S. domestic auto manufacturers where he leads a multi disciplinary team of resources. He also serves as the engagement partner on one of the company's Tier 1 global automotive clients where Ernst and Young performs global internal audit and risk advisory services.

Henning has more than 21 years of experience in serving automotive and manufacturing companies with risk management, internal and external audit services. He has spent the majority of his career working in the financial statement audit practice serving primarily global manufacturing companies, many of which are in the automotive industry and he later joined the company's advisory practice.

A certified public accountant (CPA), Henning earned a bachelor of business administration in professional accounting from the University of Michigan. He is a member of many different groups, including Institute of Internal Auditors, American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants. In addition, he is a board member of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Southeastern Michigan and a member of the board of advisors, University of Michigan-Dearborn College of Business.